

Sheriff's Posse Kills Negroes

CHANDLER IN MADISON
COURT FIGHT DESPERATELY FOR LIFE

Dothan, Oct. 9.—Joe Chandler and Ben Chandler, who to high school were held up and robbed near High Thursday afternoon, were shot to death, and their companion, Ed Black, was fatally wounded in an encounter with the posse of Sheriff Mitchell today. The desperately wounded, is suffering in the hospital with no possibility of escaping. The negroes did some fighting, but none of the officers is hurt. The encounter took place in the Southern Railway cut at five miles west of here, at 4 o'clock in the morning.

The hunt for the three negro desperadoes has been continuous since within an hour after the highway robbery near Merrick on last Thursday, and it has been one of the most exciting that the officers of Madison county have ever engaged in. Several encounters have been had with the man and each time they fired on their pursuers.

Negro Farmer Gives Clue

At midnight last night, a negro farmer telephoned Sheriff Mitchell that the high school and came to his place to spend the night in his barn. Instead of going in, the three fugitives went on through the a field and formed an ambush, ready for the posse that they knew would follow them. They took a position in a pocket in the cut above the railroad.

The sheriff made up a posse and went to the scene in an automobile. They dismounted at the end of the road and walked right on toward the ambush, but one of the negroes struck a light and disclosed their position. The posse surrounded the spot and by the flickering light the negroes were seen with their weapons ready. Sheriff Mitchell called to them to surrender and the answer was a shot point blank at Deputy Miller. The fight was on then and about fifty shots were fired. All of the negroes fell, but Black got up and made off in the darkness, leaving a trail of blood behind. He is known to be desperately wounded.

The Chandler negroes are escaped convicts from both Alabama and Tennessee prisons.

HUNDREDS PERISH IN FOREST FIRES

FOUR TOWNS ARE WIPED OFF MAP—THOUSANDS
ARE HOMELESS

Warren, Minn., Oct. 9.—Beaurette, Spooner, Hix and Grand Rapids, Minn., were wiped off the map by a conflagration that broke out Sunday morning. The bodies of several people have been located and it is thought that a large number of others will be recovered.

Wagon loads of lumber are being brought into the way station at Beaurette.

It is reported that many families, crazed with grief at the loss of their homes, are roaming the woods, and searching parties are constantly going out looking for the injured, the dead and the demented. One family of nine, one of seven and one of five, were destroyed on Friday night.

At 8:30 p. m., a tornado of fire struck Beaurette and Spooner and within three minutes after the ablaze, and within an hour they were heaps of ashes. The people of these two towns had just sufficient time to get out of their homes, and that they had on their faces. They were taken to the hospital in the town and were at the depot and taken to Beaurette.

A school of children was taken to a safe place. The women and children were rapidly removed to places of safety. The Beaurette school in the way has stationed teams at every station in the course of the journey and is doing everything in its power to relieve the situation.

The people of Beaurette and Spooner and all the settlers all through the north central part of the state, have lost everything. Five thousand people are homeless and the greater part of these are absolutely destitute. Help must reach them in the next day or two and that, in a substantial way, as the greater part of them are but half clad.

The fires are still raging and the smoke is dense. Wires are down and news is obtainable only as refugees come in.

MAYOR'S COURT GRINDS TODAY

SEVERAL CASES WERE UP
IN COURT ON DIFFERENT CHARGES

The civil doers that were up in mayor's court this afternoon all made a George Washington reputation and plead guilty to the charges dictated against them.

Tom Colley, Groff Davis, Will Moore, and Cliff Coker were all up for disorderly conduct and each received a fine of $5.00, and Charles Jones, charged with the same offense, was fined $10.00.

John West and Neal Wyers were tried for throwing trash upon the sidewalk, and were fined $1.00 each.

Elmore Brown faced a charge of assault and battery and plead guilty to the tune of $20.00.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McClellan and Emmett Steele have returned from Albany, where they have been visiting during the week.

COUNCIL HELD MEETING

LAST NIGHT

The city council met last night in the council chambers and the following were present:

Mayor Watford, Aldermen Whitten and Boland and Powell were absent. Aldermen H. S. Hensley and Leon
C. Hensley were present.

Mayor Watford presided and J. D. Hensley acted as clerk. Alderman Hensley moved that the city of Atlanta had finished their contract and asked that they be paid for it.

M. D. Crockett of the Graves Matthews Co. asked that the paying company be allowed a 3,000 estimate on the work done by them since the last estimate which was on the first of the month be made now.

Chief M. T. Jones of the Dothan fire department was present and asked that fireman Floyd George's salary be raised $5 a month. This was referred to the committee on fire and to the mayor.

The matter in regard to Chief of Police J. L. Dominga's discharged by Mayor Baker came up and was discussed but no action was taken as to whether they would uphold Mayor Baker in his actions or elect a new chief.

THE FIRE ALARM QUESTION.

All cities have an alarm for fire, but where will you find such a noise as we have had here? A carse whistle to give two short blasts with the city clock to ring out the ward in which the fire
has occurred has proven satisfactory in several cities.

No person wants to be scared half to death and out of a night's rest by this wildcat, tiger or panther whistle but just because some cottage or negro house has caught on fire in the dead of the night. It might serve very well to be used in the day time, or in the event that the business section was to catch on fire in the night.

War of 1812

OVER 150 years ago the old French Market at New Orleans was famous through its exquisite coffee. It was a rare treat to stop at this celebrated market and sip of the delicious beverage—the only place in America where it could be secured.

The society dames of all the Mardi Gras Balls
would not consider the evening complete without a cup of French Market Coffee as a "nightcap."

In the War of '72-2, after Andrew Jackson's brilliant victory, he stopped at the Market House and treated his troops to

French Market Coffee

Then it could be had nowhere else. But today you may all serve it at your table—for the old French Market blend is perpetuated by

The Same Unique
Hygienic Roasting Process

You can obtain this rare coffee blend with all the enticing aroma and natural strength preserved, for we pack it in hermetically sealed cans.

And it is untouched by human hands from planta-

Walt Mason —in Beautiful Book Form

Uncle Walt

Turned by William Allen White, "The Poet Laureate of the American Democracy".

THE "Uncle Walt" book, for which a nation has been waiting for months is ready. This is the first and only volume containing the original, immortal Prose Poems of Walt Mason. Not for a hundred years has there arisen among us one whose "right from the soil" words are so representative of the spirit of democracy—and each one done up in little-foolish capsules, sugar-coated, and wholly according to the Persimmon Theory. The book will be a home in gloom indeed.

An All-Star Book

This book is a beautiful work, with cover in several colors. It is a masterpiece by the famous artist, introduction by William Allen White, illustrated by William Stearns. The book is printed on high-grade paper, deckle-edged, gilt top—200 pages of humor, pathos, and side-widening what-not.

Price, $1.25 net. If your bookseller does not have "Uncle Walt," send a check or money order to the address below, and it will come to you prepaid, by the quickest transportation. George Matthew Adams, Publisher, People's Gas Building, CHICAGO.

Bob Taylor Will Win.

Bob Taylor will be elected governor of Tennessee without ever taking down his old fiddle and putting on new strings, and a rap-pore, and a sound post, and new keys without ever buying a new bow. He won't bid it necessary to fiddle and sing all over the state of Tennessee, for the people of that state believe in Bob Taylor. He has been elected governor twice before, and the worst thing they can say against him was that he pardoned too many convicts, but they never attributed any of the pardons to pull in politics. He always pardoned some poor fellow from the mountains, whose family needed him back home, and a fellow who hadn't and influential lawyer friends to draw up petitions with fifty or sixty feet of names signed to them.

Bob Taylor will win because he is popular, and because Tennessee isn't ready for prohibition, and because the state feels that Bob will let things drift for the present on that line.

Straw Hats and Hip Breeches.

Nearly everybody in Dothan, and in this section of Alabama know the late Joe Baker, Sr. Those who have come since his death, have heard of him through others. He said a good many wise things in his time, and among them, he passed this out one day:

"You never saw a man who wore a straw hat and hip-breeches that was worth killing. What time he was not pulling at one side or the other of his breeches to keep them up, he was chasing after his straw hat, and never had time to do anything else."

He was riding in the country one day, about dinner time, and a man invited he and his companion in to dinner. The other man didn't hardly think they had time to stop for dinner, but Mr. Baker said:

"Bud, you oughtn't to miss a meal when you are hungry. The meals you miss are gone forever, and you shouldn't try to make it up at the next meal."

Signs Of The Season.

Since the "white-back" has deserted his hole in the dead pine tree and gone north, since the poplar leaves are beginning to turn brown; since the beech mast and nuts are falling, and make the squirrels back; since the dogwood berries are turning red and the huckle-berries and hullaces are turning purple; since the cockle-burs and Spanish needles are turning brown and sticking to your pants leg, and the wind is drilling cat-tails and crawling weeds in the fence jams and among the sage-fields; since the white-crowns are sitting on the ground, but leads to the thickest of the approach of the season, since all of the season, we have to name to and number of cold days in our midst in fact making it up within the scope of us.

Some army friends want to our German in Germany, by building a new drive of battle ships, and have them ready at all times, in case somebody starts something. It is a sad fact that those who go armed, find opportunity at times to use their arms, and the same things apply to nations. We all get scared of other nations at times, and go to preparing for war in time of peace, and other nations do the same thing. It is just a question as to who has the best pull with the powers that be, to get money to build more battle-ships. Some time in the future history of our civilization, we may learn to settle our differences in other ways.

Since it is fashionable to inquire after the old time girl, or the old time woman, who once did this, or the other thing, we would like to remind you that you no longer see women riding bicycles, as they did fifteen years ago. It used to be fine fun to harness up a bicycle and ride to Headland, and Abbeville, and sundry places near by. Women would go along, too, and probably they enjoyed it. Now if a woman were to ride down the street on a bicycle, it would attract as much attention and comment as a balky horse, or a tourist walking fifty thousand miles on a wagon.

Meantime, not a word has been said about Caleb Powers, giving us a scrap of news about the book he is due to write. It may be that he is waiting on that book till after the election, and it would be worth while to write it. Any man who has stayed in jail ten or twelve years, and then got out and secured the nomination for congress ought to be able to get up a story of jail life that would reap a rich harvest for the author. It is likely that Caleb will take this up early in the spring, if he is not injured.

Two Sets Of City Officials.

Samson is a rather small town to have two sets of city officials. Wonder which one will have the tax collecting right, and to which one will the public pay its taxes, and blind tiger privileges, if they have such a thing.

Most towns find that one set of officials is sufficient to settle all matters that come up, and when this Samson double-set has worked a few months, we will watch with interest the report of the town's financial standing, as it will no doubt be published in the Ledger.

Because this country is short 5,000,000 bales of hay, the Emporia Gazette thinks it due to the health food industry at Battle Creek, but such is not the case. Any one who has tried the stuff knows that it isn't hay at all, but saw dust, and not Alabama long leaf yellow pine, either. Veneering mill products, and even lumber, is due to be much higher, but not hay.

Georgia, or that is, the Atlanta Journal, is actually growing about Hole South getting five votes to Joe Brown, who isn't a good enough man to be elected a vote. The votes that he got or he got out to Tom Watson, who got read with the pharisees, and wanted to smash somebody.

It has been chosen by the independent League as one to lead the party to victory in New York. You know it would be an unkind independence League that couldn't recognize a better man on all occasions. Mr. Hearst liked that name to that very day of the party.

You know they have told it on Carter, the out man, that he had more oats to the acre than would be on the ground after they were cut. This can almost be said of the Houston county sweet potatoe crop, for they are so thick under the ground till they are working themselves out cracking the ground like a mole.

The King of Prussia, a likely looking lad, and they take his throne away from him and build a fire in the stove with it, he can come to Dothan and get a job in one of the Greek restaurants. He can find plenty of work to do, and he needn't regret giving up a playhouse of a kingdom.

Walking across an unpaved street to the government building for our mail will come mighty inconvenient after we get used to the paving all down town. The only way to remedy it is to pave Troy street.

The Florence Times, published by M. W. Capner and son, is one of the neatest papers published in Alabama, where we have so many papers that looked like the publishers used clothes wringer to get out the paper on.

This has been a great summer of killing women and making away with the bodies under cement floors. These cement floors are to be looked upon with suspicion.

SAILING A BOAT WAS NOT THE ONLY THING HE COULD DO.

The master of a vessel in a port in the gulf of Mexico, being in need of money, borrowed it and to secure its repayment executed what is called a bottomry bond. By this bond it was agreed that if the money was not paid within so many days after the vessel arrived at New York proceedings might be taken to have the vessel sold and the debt
paid out of the proceeds.

The money was not repaid, and I was retained to enforce the bond and began a suit. Some one interested in the vessel appeared in the suit and denied that the bond had been executed by the master, as had been alleged.

It became necessary to take the testimony on this point of a sailor whose name was subscribed to the bond as having witnessed its execution. In answer to my questions the sailor said that the captain called him into the vessel's cabin and asked him to be a witness to the bond, and he signed his name to it as a witness, and he spoke of the paper as the bottomry bond.

The opposing counsel in a sharp cross examination asked him how he knew it was a bottomry bond, and the witness answered that he read enough of it to know what it was.
Some other skillful questions brought out the fact that when the sailor came into the cabin the captain was sitting on the other side of a table, facing the sailor, so that the paper was between them; that the paper was not read to him; that the captain turned over the first leaf of the paper and signed his name at the end of it and told the sailor where to sign his name, which he did and then left the cabin.

My heart sank, for I saw that it was open to the other side to say that the document lay on the table upside down to the sailor and that his statement that he read enough of the document to know it was a bottomry bond was false, because,
of course, he could not read writing which was upside down and therefore his whole evidence should be disbelieved.

The lawyer opposed to me saw the point also, but instead of leaving the matter where it was he concluded to clinch it, and, taking the document, he laid it down on the table before the witness upside down and said to him, "Let us see you read the paper now."

To my great surprise and relief
the witness read the writing, upside-down as it was, with nearly as much fluency as if it had been right side up.

That ended the contest over the execution of the bond. This sailor's ability to read writing when it was upside down was a curious instance of the many curious things which sailors do to occupy their time during idle watches on long voyages.—

Silk in England.

King James I. was very anxious to naturalize the silk worm in England and to establish a native manufacture of the product. To this end a great number of silkworm trees were imported, and a fine plantation of them was made near St.
James' palace on grounds where Buckingham palace now stands.
This plantation was known as the Mulberry gardens and became a kind of recreation ground. Both Evelyn and Pepys record their visits here, and Dryden is said to have taken a lady friend there to enjoy the "mulberry parts." Close by were the necessary houses and appliances for rearing the silkworms
and the manufacture of the silk.
But the king's experiment failed.

The Only Thing.

"Doctor, don't you know of something that will make me pretty?"
"My dear young lady, I know of something that will make you positively beautiful, but you will need to get considerable of it."
"Tell me what it is and I will get all the drug store has of it."
"You don't get it at a drug store;
it is money."—Houston Post.

The Banquet to Henry Clay in New Orleans in 1842 Cost $100 per Plate

Never before had the historic old St. Louis Hotel, near the famous French Market Place, contained such an assemblage of women and famous men. Here it was that Henry Clay made his only speech in Louisiana, and with matchless eloquence paid a glowing tribute to the beauty of Southern women. Before and after this banquet the guests sipped the famous French Market Coffee, as was the custom in those days. Then this famous beverage could be had only at the French Market. Now you may serve it at your own table, for the old French Market blend is perpetuated by

The government exhibit, which will be transferred to the Alabama Agricultural Exposition at Knoxville, to the Alabama Agricultural Exposition at Montgomery, is an impressive and comprehensive showing of this kind ever taken to a southern state. For a good many years the agricultural department at Washington has been putting forth its very best efforts to help the southern people. Long continued immigration to the west has pushed the frontier out into the Pacific ocean, and the people have now turned toward the south as the only part of the country where lands may be had cheap and agriculture may be followed as a profitable occupation. Realizing this fact, the government has made a careful study of conditions in the south, what crops may be raised to the best advantage and what development may be urged along the lines of new investments. As a result of this the south is perhaps the best advertised section of the country at this time. These exhibits will provide valuable information to everybody who is able to make a study of them.

In these days of progress and development it is the man who keeps abreast of the times who is the best farmer. No man can follow agriculture as a business at this time and not be a hard student and more or less a scientist. The accumulation of what has been done and the testimony of what may be done which will share in this exhibit at Montgomery, will be like a full course in the best agricultural schools of the country. It is therefore important that every farmer in the state make it a point to be in Montgomery some time between October 19th and 28th, and make a careful study of this agricultural exhibit.

Alabama has now come to the question of providing timber for the future rather than using timber which other generations have left. The next legislature will be called upon to pass some adequate forestry laws for the protection of the young forests which are now coming on and to adopt rules and regulations for cutting what timber there is left.

This makes it of material interest at the Alabama Agricultural and Industrial Exposition October 19th to 28th in Montgomery, there will be shown the government forestry exhibit which will be carried to Montgomery from the exposition in Knoxville. All those who have been reading in the papers about the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy and have kept posted on the efforts of Mr. Pinchot to carry out the policy of the forest preservation as they saw it, you will see at Montgomery very much of the work of Mr. Pinchot and his associates. Whatever may be said of this well known scientist among the politicians and from a political stand point, it cannot be denied that this is the greatest exhibit in the United States and probably in the world on the general theme of forestry, and the people of Alabama are extremely fortunate to be able to see and thoroughly investigate the exhibit which grows out of the work Mr. Pinchot has been doing.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

A laugh is a good thing—if it isn't on you.

Even a pretty girl, it will learn to walk.

The masterminds of a man are sure to test his brain.

No, Corvidia, a catfish isn't merely a fishhead.

We all talk about saving money—but most of us let it go at that.

When a man loaf's, he just loaf's; when a woman loaf's, she does fancy work.

If there is anything nice to say about a man, it is always said at his funeral.

No man is justified in calling a marriage a failure just because his wife snored.

It takes as little to start some men to arguing as it does to start some women gossiping.

People who try to impress you with their wealth usually find it difficult to make both ends meet.
